A despatch from Omaha says that the weather has been extremely dry in that evicinity of late and prairie fires unusually destructive. The country within thirty miles of the city has been mostly burned over, and enormous quantities of hay and grain destroyed, beside many houses, barns and fences. The prairie fire started about two miles north of the city, burning most of the fences, sheds and buildings at the race track and fair grounds. The soldiers at Omaha Barracks were out night and day fighting the flames to prevent the burning of the barracks, and have been successful in stopping the fires in that vicinity.

TWO WAYS TO LOVE. BY SUSAN COOLEDGE.

He says he loves me well, and I Believe it; in my hands to make Or mar, his life lies utterly; Nor can I the strong plea deny

He says there is no face so fair As mine; when I draw near, his eyes Light up; each ripple of my hair He loves ; the very cloak I wear He touches lightly where it lies.

And roses, roses all the way Upon my path fall, strewed by him; His tenderness by night, by day, Keeps constant watch, and heaps alway My cup of pleasure to the brim.

The other women in their spite Count me the pappiest woman born To be so worshipped; I delight To flannt his homage in the sight Of all, and pay them scorn for sccrn. I love him-or I think I do;

Sure, one must love what is so sweet He is so tender and so true, So elequent to plead and sue So strong, though kneeling at my feet. Yet I had visions once of yore, Girlish imaginings of zest, A possible thrill—but why run o'er

These fancies, idle dreams, no more; I, will forget them, this is best, So let him take-the past is past; The future with its golden key Into his outstretched hands I east; I shall love him—perhaps—at last, As now I love his love for me.

Not as all other women may, Love I my love; he is so great, So beautiful, I dare essay No nearness, but in shence lay

My heart upon his path-and wait Poor heart, its beatings are so low He does not heed them passing by Save as one heeds where violets grow A fragrance, caring not to know Where the veiled purple buds may

I sometimes think that it is dead, It lies so still I bend and lean Like mother over cradle-head, Listening if still faint breaths are shed Like sighs that parted lips between. And then with vivid pulse and thrlll

It quickens into sudden bliss At sound of step nor voice, nor wil He knows not, cares not, it is his I would not lift it if I could.

The little flame though faint and dim Asglow-worm spark in lonely wood, Shining where no man calls it good, May some day light the path for him : May guide his way, or soon or late, Through blinding mist and falling rain, And so content I watch and wait; Let others share his happy fate.

I only ask to share his pain. But if some day, when passing slow, My dear love should his steps arrest, Should spy the poor heart, bending low. Should raise it, scan it, love it ?-so! Why-God alone can tell the rest. -From Scribner's Monthly for Octobe

THE CRADLE SONG OF THE POOR. Hush! I cannot bear to see thee

Stretch thy hands in vain; I have got no bread to give thee, Nothing, child, to ease thy pain. When God sent thee first to bless me, Proud, and thankful, too, was I; Now, my darling, I, thy mother, Almost long to see thee die.

Sleep, my darling, thou art weary; God is good, but life is dreary. I have watched thy beauty fading, And thy strength sink day by day Soon, I know, will want and fever, Take thy little life away. Famine makes thy father reckless, Hope has left both him and me We could suffer all, my baby,

Had we but a crust for thee. Sleep, my darling, thou art weary God is good, but life is dreary, Better thou shouldst perish early, Starve so soon, my darling one, Than live to want, to sin, to struggle Vainly, still, as I have done. Better that thy angel spirit

With my joy, my peace were flown Than thy heart grow cold and carele Reckless, hopeless, like my own. Sleep, my darling, thou art weary ; God is good, but life is dreary. I am wasted, dear, with hunger, And my brain is all oppressed, I have scarcely strength to press thee Wan and feeble to my breast. Patience, baby, God will help us,

Death will come to thee and me He will take us to his heaven. Where no want or pain can be Sleep, my darling, thou art weary : God is good, but life is dreary. Such the plaint, that late and early, Did we listen, we might hear Close beside us-but the thunder Of a city dulls our ear, Every heart, like God's bright angel. Can bid one such sorrow cease;

God has glory when his children Bring his poor ones joy and peace! Listen, nearer while she sings, Sounds the fluttering of wings.

TOUCHU is a stimulant, and of itself may fail to effect a cure, but Buchu, when scientifically combined with Bromide of Potassium and other ingredients, produces a sedative effect, and causes a healthy action, thus increasing the powers of digestion, allaying irritation, reducing all unnatural swellings, stopping pain and inflammation, and causing the repairs and nutriments in the human body to be greater than the wastes, thus preventing decomposition and decay, and gives nourishment, health and vigor to

My Buchu is good for all diseases arisng from excesses; such as Weakness, and Pain in the Back and Legs, Trembling in the region of the Heart, Weak Nerves, Pallid Countenance, Dryness of the Skin, Scrofula, Syphilis, in its many forms, Ul-If your system is affected by any of the above symptoms and diseases, relief is at hand. Get a bottle of my Buchu and Bromide of Potassium at once and you may rely on being cured.

I know just what I say. My record as a Compounder of Medicine is second to no man in the Southwest. Twenty-five or thirty years ago, as my fellow-citizens know full well, found me behind the prescription counter in the city of which I now dwell; I have cured more people of various diseases than all the physicians in Louisville put together. Undoubtedly, for every single patient that any Louisville physician has I have a hundred. I am no upstart of yesterday.

My medicines are a success-a great success. Souisville is not large enough for me to have a competitor. I monopolize the Wholesale Patent Medicine trade here. One and another has tried, by copying after me here in Louisville, to compete with me, but, one after another, their guns have been silenced, and their efforts have been abortive. My medicines are good and answer the purpose-that is the secret of my success. My reputation as a compounder of good, reliable articles is fully established. I believe my Buchu and Bromide of Poassium is the best article now in the market for the cure of all diseases of the

which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A.
